How Do I Cancel a Chase Travel Booking?

If you've booked a flight, hotel, rental car, or vacation package through Chase Travel, you may need to cancel your reservation due to unexpected travel changes. Fortunately, Chase Travel provides multiple ways to modify or cancel eligible bookings. However, cancellation policies vary depending on the airline, hotel, rental company, and fare type you selected.

This comprehensive guide explains everything you need to know about cancelling a Chase Travel booking, requesting refunds, understanding cancellation fees, and reaching a Live Agent at 1-844-386-9754 for personalized assistance.

Can You Cancel a Chase Travel Booking?

Yes.

Most Chase Travel reservations can be cancelled, but eligibility depends on:

- Type of reservation
- Airline cancellation policy
- Hotel cancellation window
- Rental car provider
- Refundable vs. Non-refundable booking
- Time before departure
- Promotional fares

Some reservations qualify for a full refund, while others may only provide travel credit or incur cancellation fees.

Can I Cancel Within 24 Hours?

In many cases, yes.

Flights departing to or from the United States may qualify for the 24-hour cancellation rule, provided the booking meets applicable airline and regulatory requirements.

Benefits may include:

- Full refund

- No cancellation fee
- Original payment returned

Eligibility depends on:

- Airline policy
 - Booking channel
 - Time of purchase
 - Departure date

Chase Travel Flight Cancellation Policy

Flight cancellation policies depend on the airline.

Possible outcomes include:

Refundable Tickets

Usually eligible for:

- Full refund
- Original payment method

Non-refundable Tickets

Typically receive:

- Airline credit
- Future travel voucher
- Cancellation fee deductions

Some basic economy fares may not be cancellable.

Hotel Cancellation Policy

Hotel bookings follow the hotel's own cancellation rules.

Common policies include:

- Free cancellation up to 24–72 hours before check-in
- Partial refund
- One-night penalty
- Non-refundable reservations

Always review your booking confirmation.

Rental Car Cancellation

Most rental reservations can be cancelled before pickup.

Depending on the supplier:

- Free cancellation
- No-show fees
- Partial refunds

Prepaid rentals often have stricter rules.

Vacation Package Cancellation

Vacation packages combine several travel services.

Cancellation may involve:

- Airline penalties
- Hotel penalties
- Activity provider fees
- Package cancellation charges

A Chase Travel representative can help explain how each component is affected.

Will I Receive a Refund?

Refunds depend on:

- Fare conditions
- Cancellation timing
- Supplier policies
- Payment method

Refunds may be issued as:

- Original payment refund
- Travel credit
- Airline voucher

- Hotel credit

Processing times vary.

How Long Do Refunds Take?

Typical refund timelines include:

- Credit Card: 5–10 business days
- Airline Credits: Often issued shortly after cancellation
- Hotel Refunds: Vary by property
- Rental Cars: Usually within several business days

Actual timelines depend on the travel provider and payment processor.

What Happens to Chase Ultimate Rewards Points?

If your booking was purchased using Chase Ultimate Rewards® Points, the outcome depends on the reservation terms.

Possible outcomes include:

- Points returned to your account
- Partial point refund
- Travel credit
- Mixed cash-and-points adjustment

The specific policy depends on the booking type and cancellation eligibility.

Can I Change Instead of Cancel?

Yes.

Many reservations allow changes such as:

- Travel dates
- Flight times
- Destination
- Passenger information (subject to airline rules)

- Hotel dates

Fare differences may apply.

Common Reasons Travelers Cancel

People frequently cancel because of:

- Medical emergencies
 - Family emergencies
 - Bad weather
 - Flight delays
 - Business schedule changes
 - Visa issues
 - Personal reasons
 - Airline schedule changes
